COVER STORY: Nestled on the side of a winding country road, a cozy little brick coffee house welcomes visitors with its warmth and inviting aromas, surrounded by a tapestry of vibrant fall foliage. Folks gather outside, steaming mugs in hand, their laughter mingling with the crisp autumn air. In the foreground, a friendly farmer stands proudly by the back of his truck, offering a colorful array of pumpkins—perfect for the season. This delightful scene is a reminder that fall is the perfect time to rekindle your passion for model railroading. As the leaves turn and the holidays approach, it's the ideal moment to bring your layouts to life, creating a warm and inviting world where family and friends can gather. So grab your favorite beverage, and let the spirit of the season inspire your creativity. You can learn more about the new Cornerstone™ Coffee Shop (933-4026) at walters.com.

THE 2024 WALTHERS MODEL RAILROAD SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

Wm. K. Walthers, Inc. wants to recognize the future of our hobby; the youth and young adults active in model railroading and pursuing a degree in one of the STEAM programs; Science, Technology, Engineering, Art or Math. Walthers awarded two deserving young adults one $2,500 scholarship each!

MEET THIS YEAR'S WINNERS!

DEAN DEIS Moorpark College

Model railroading has been a central focus of Dean's free time since 8th grade, whether through building models, participating in operating sessions, or volunteering at a local club. This involvement has provided valuable opportunities both within and beyond the hobby, exposing him to a diverse range of people and ideas. These experiences have sharpened skills like critical thinking, problem solving, and placemaking—skills directly applicable to geography, which he plans to pursue after graduating high school.

With the goal of earning a Bachelor of Science in geography, Dean will first attend Moorpark College, then transfer to a California State University. His participation in model railroading has been instrumental in developing skills that will be vital in future academic and professional endeavors.

BENJAMIN HECK University of Minnesota Twin Cities, College of Science and Engineering

Model railroading has been central to Benjamin's STEAM education, especially in electrical engineering. Working with both AC and DC systems, he learned key differences between the two. One of his most complex projects, an advertising board, expanded his technical skills. The hobby also sparked a passion for 3D printing, leading to the creation of custom models like a train wagon, using both filament and resin printers. Physics concepts helped him solve challenges on his own track. His artistic skills grew through painting 3D-printed minifigures, and he explored filmmaking by creating a YouTube channel, BearRail, focused on model trains.

Benjamin now sets his sights on a future in Electrical Engineering at the University of Minnesota Twin Cities, College of Science and Engineering.

Walthers supports your model rail

Unplug, connect and prepare for the future!

Model Railroading is an enjoyable and valuable activity that reduces screen time, encourages connection and builds a solid foundation for future careers in engineering, architecture, transportation and other technical fields. The hands-on experience directly translates to real-world skills, making it an ideal way to prepare for a successful future.

If you're a student, teen, or young adult looking for an alternative to typical after school activities, we encourage you to share this ad with your advisors, scout or community leaders. Have them contact Walthers to learn how a model railroad program can be incorporated into their extracurricular activity line-up.

End of home ownership isn't the end of a hobby

Moving to a senior community doesn't mean you have to give up model railroading. Walthers offers programs tailored for senior living residents, including simple craft activities, six-month skill-building projects, and even full layouts in a club setting. Keep enjoying the hobby you love!

If you're currently a resident in a senior living community, considering a move, or know of someone in this setting, we encourage you to share this ad with the activity coordinator. Have them contact Walthers to learn how a model railroad program can be incorporated into their community.
